Guidelines on how to develop a Pre-Apprenticeship (PA) Program or a Work Based Learning (WBL) Program in Montana.

Updated 9/28/2017

1) Develop relationships with employer partners and potential pre-apprenticeship or work based learning education partners.

2) Does the program already exist? If not, work with employer partners and educational programs to outline the ideal training that would prepare someone for apprenticeship or employment.

3) Is the employer an MRAP sponsor? The first factor for Pre-Apprenticeship is to determine if the employer partner is a Sponsor in the Montana Registered Apprenticeship Program (MRAP). If the employer partner is a MRAP Sponsor, that education partner may be introduced as a Pre-Apprenticeship opportunity. If the employer is NOT a MRAP Sponsor, it must be introduced as a Work Based Learning opportunity. The agreements are essentially the same.

4) What is the value of the program? The next thing to do will be to work with the employer to determine the value of the pre-apprenticeship program. We break up the value for PA Program into three categories: credit towards program entry/candidacy, credit for on the job requirements, and credit toward related technical instruction. For a WBL Program, there is only one category, credit towards program entry/candidacy. The second page of the agreement has examples in each category.

5) Complete agreement where the employer partner recognizes the PA/WBL. The PA/WBL Program is the education partner and is responsible for notifying MRAP when people start and end their programs.

Info needed for either program:

- Employee name, address, email, phone
- Education partner name, address, email, phone
- Length of training or program
- Program outlines of OJT and RTI
- Date participants start and expected graduation date; request for certificates

Tips:

- Third page of the PA/WBL Program agreement can be used as a worksheet to list credit in all three categories for multiple education partners.
• An employer partner can recognize multiple education programs as quality pre-apprenticeship or WBL programs.
• A education partner program can be recognized by multiple employer partners.
