What is AMID?

Advanced Manufacturing by Innovation and Design (AMID)

Nashua Community College received a U.S. Department of Labor, Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training Round 3 (TAACCCT 3) grant, to work in tandem with local and regional manufacturers, state agencies and community organizations to transform its Advanced Manufacturing/Machine Tool and Mechanical Design Technology curriculum into a credit based/ Competency-Based Education (CBE) model. The program, will provide students with an opportunity to earn stackable credentials needed for Advanced Manufacturing jobs and will create a path to a STEM-based four-year college degree. The programs offer comprehensive support for their students through the Success Navigator Program. AMID offers a Technology Enhanced Machine Tool Technology CNC Programming certificate. Technology enhanced Degree programs in Mechanical Design Technology and Precision Manufacturing will be offered at a later date.

Manufacturing in New Hampshire:

Manufacturing is the largest single sector employer in New Hampshire when measured by total compensation to New Hampshire employees and represents a third of the total gross product of the state. In 2014, 66,500 manufacturing employees produced $7.71 Billion dollars in goods in New Hampshire with an average total annual compensation of $79,262.
