The Power Plant Technology program will expand and train entry-level operators in the field of power plant generation using industry recognized credentials and industry driven competencies. The program will use regional training sites, face-to-face blended learning, modular curriculum, and technology enabled learning to produce stackable credentials. This new and improve program is funded by the U.S. Department of Labor through the TRAC-7 grant program.