

Name: _____

Colon Exercise #2

Revise the following sentences using a colon correctly or eliminating unnecessary colons.

1. The newspaper interviewed five people LeAnn, Brian, Derrek, Tara, and Mr. Appel.
2. Today's court system is designed to provide services such as: civil suits, criminal suits, or even personal reasons for petitioning a court.
3. At the faculty-sponsored prom party, the high school is decorated, and all the teachers volunteer time to set up games such as: laser tag, miniature golf, and obstacle courses.
4. Pheasants have the same basic needs that any species requires for survival. A safe place to rear their young, a place to take cover from the bitter winter winds, and a place to forage for food when the summer food supply has run out.
5. There were three classes in which I felt totally alienated from everybody else. These were Colorado Studies, ACT/SAT Preparation, and Non-Fiction.
6. Belly boaters must always be aware of their surroundings. The surroundings include the weather, fishermen on boats or belly boats, and fishermen on the shore.
7. Our zeal about riding bike trails was rekindled at a place where we would never have expected the Home and Garden Show.
8. The class was divided into three categories, lecture, lab, and clinicals.
9. Some occupations require standardized tests which applicants must pass pilots, accountants, and lawyers.
10. Since the Nobel Prize was established in 1895, three US presidents have won the award Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, and Jimmy Carter.