

FINAL WEEK: The Final Research Paper Final Drafts / Final Exam

WRAPPING THINGS UP

It's time to submit the final drafts of your peer review as well as complete your oral presentations. As part of these instructions you will also complete the final exam (due the last day of the course). You need to do the following this week:

1. Schedule a time to complete your oral presentation
2. Complete the Final Thoughts Discussion Forum
3. Submit your final drafts
4. Complete the final exam

FINAL THOUGHTS DISCUSSION FORUM

Once you're ready, go to the Final Thoughts discussion forum link. Review my opening question and respond, and then respond to at least TWO of your classmates by Sunday night.

THE PROBLEM SOLVING ESSAY FINAL DRAFT

By midnight Sunday night, post the final draft of your Problem Solving Essay to the Problem Solving Essay Final Draft link. Follow the directions in Chapter 13 of the textbook for completing the essay.

ORAL PRESENTATIONS

Your oral presentation should be approximately 5 minutes in length. In this presentation I would like to learn the following:

- What made you interested in this topic?
- What was your research question and eventual answer (thesis)
- What were the best sources you found on the topic
- Give the class a general summary of your argument

FINAL EXAM

By the last day of class, complete the final "reflection" exam.
