

IN-DEMAND SKILLS: WE GOT THIS.

Today's workplace demands think-on-your-feet problem solving. The weather half way around the world can affect sourcing of raw materials. An unanticipated workers' strike throws a delivery schedule into disarray. Rising fuel costs affect fiscal control.

When that happens, you need someone who understands your business and supply chain management processes. You need a team with SCPro™ Fundamentals certifications from LINCS and The Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals, the preeminent association for individuals involved in supply chain management. This mark of excellence ensures you are hiring a professional who knows the field.

WE GOT THIS.

YOUR SUPPLY CHAIN IS YOUR BUSINESS LIFELINE

Every organization, whether they realize it or not, succeeds or fails in part because of their supply chain. Companies with well-run supply chains (in the Supply Chain Top 25) outperform other companies in the Dow Jones by 3 times. The critical connection between a company's financial success and the effectiveness of their supply chain process has been proven. For some companies, the supply chain is their business model. *Source: CSCMP.org
