

“Learning to write programs stretches your mind, and helps you think better, creates a way of thinking about things that I think is helpful in all domains.”

– Bill Gates

“An understanding of computer science is becoming increasingly essential in today’s world. Our national competitiveness depends upon our ability to educate our children – and that includes our girls – in this critical field.”

– Sheryl Sandberg

Plant Yourself in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) celebrates technology by giving you a chance to experience an “Hour of Code,” some game development, and some hardware/networking exercises. Eastern Iowa Community College instructors and students help you experience the “T” in STEM! This is a STEM initiative to introduce everyone to computer science.

When: December 12th, 2015 9am – noon

Where: Scott Community College

Kahl Educational Center

326 W 3rd St., Davenport IA 52801

Who: Especially designed for 5th grade students through adults

How: To register, please visit
<https://goo.gl/V1Dr8e>

Register today – Limited to 70 participants.

For more information:

Lori Walljasper

District IT Coordinator

563.336.5217

lwallasper@eicc.edu

This workforce solution is funded by the IHUM Consortium which is 100% financed through a $15,000,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Labor’s Employment & Training Administration. The product was created by the grantee and does not necessarily reflect the official position of the U.S. Department of Labor. The Department of Labor makes no guarantees, warranties, or assurances of any kind, express or implied, with respect to such information, including any information on linked sites and including, but not limited to, accuracy of the information or its completeness, timeliness, usefulness, adequacy, continued availability, or ownership. This work is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License. To view a copy of this license, visit <http://creativecommons.org/by/4.0/>.