DIVE INTO DIGITAL SUMMER 2014, CENTER FOR NEW MEDIA

MxCC's Center for New Media is offering a series of course packages providing training and certification in digital arts and new media.

Students can earn certification and nine credits in select areas by completing a series of three courses over a ten week period. Courses include introductory skill development in digital arts or new media, a production specialization area, and a workshop course where skills are applied through the production of coordinated projects.

Students taking one of the designated three course packages will receive a special discount: Pay for two courses and get the productions workshop free (see registration instructions below). That's nine credits for the price of six! The summer program runs from May 27 until August 8.

Students can pick one of these four tracks for a customized intensive course experience: Interactive Multimedia Production, Web Design, New Media Production, or Digital Journalism, or create their own.

Please contact the program coordinator or program support staff if you have any questions and/or to complete registration.

ASSOCIATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

Broadcast-Cinema

Associate in Science Degree

The Broadcast-Cinema program prepares students for careers in broadcasting, film and emerging media industries. Students will learn the production techniques necessary to succeed in media production while applying innovative approaches to content creation and visual aesthetics. The program provides a balance between journalism, documentary and narrative storytelling. In their first year students learn the foundations of media production through courses in writing, media studies, aesthetics and production. The second year is devoted to the selection of a series of specialized classes in preparation for a senior thesis project and internship. Admission to the program requires placement in ENG*101 and advising session with program faculty.

ENG*200 Advanced writing is a specific requirement at some transfer institutions (e.g. SCSU). Check your transfer institution requirements carefully.

200-level literature is usually required for a bachelor's degree, which has an introduction to literature as a prerequisite. ENG*102 (included in the Advanced Writing options above) may fulfill the prerequisite for this degree.

*At least two semesters of foreign language are required by many bachelor's degree programs. Check your transfer institution for verification and additional requirements
