

SKILLS COMMONS

TAACCCT is creating the world's largest collection of job-driven workforce development OER.

SKILLS COMMONS

Your Free and Open Online
Repository of over 5,000 materials

The Department of Labor's TAACCCT grant program awarded nearly $2 billion to 256 Projects representing 700 Institutions of Higher Education. Starting in 2014, projects are contributing openly licensed materials to SkillsCommons.org.

SKILLS COMMONS

TAACCCT is creating the world's largest collection of job-driven workforce development OER.

The US Department of Labor's Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training (TAACCCT) program has created a free and open online repository called SkillsCommons containing learning materials and program support materials for job-driven workforce development.

700 institutions are producing and contributing Open Educational Resources (OER) including: industry-aligned curriculum, career maps, outreach materials, and more to the repository. The materials in the open library at SkillsCommons.org can be revised and reused and is growing every day.

The CC BY Creative Commons licensed materials in SkillsCommons provide opportunities for other institutions, organizations, individuals and industries to freely revise, reuse, remix, retain and redistribute the materials.

The SkillsCommons dedicated team of leaders, librarians, educators, developers, and technologists are available to assist you. In addition to the Support Services Center available on SkillsCommons, questions may be submitted to support@skillscommons.org.