Catalog Description

Intro to Gas Tungsten Arc Welding (3.0) Credits

This course provides a thorough technical understanding of the TIG (Heliarc) process including metal characteristics, electrode, filler metals, and shielding gases with emphasis on weld safety and procedures. (1, 4)

Purpose of the Course/Course Rationale

While a lot of GTAW jobs are in the flat position, it requires a much higher skill level to weld out of position with this process. Fitting up pipe and welding on pipe is a challenge to the best of welders. Learning how to fit the pipe and weld it properly will significantly improve the student's ability.

Materials

Textbook: Welding by David J. Hoffman, Kevin R. Dahle and David J. Fisher.

DVDs and Power Point presentations will be provided

Student must provide: safety glasses, gauntlet style welding gloves, welding helmet, welding coat and welding pliers.

Learner Outcome:

After completing this course the student will be able to:

- Apply safety precautions that must be taken to protect the student and critical electronic equipment such as computers, cell phones and pace makers to name a few when using high frequency on the TIG welder. (IS-D, RC-C)
- Demonstrate how to choose and prepare the correct tungsten electrode for the welding application. (IS-A, CR-C)
- Identify which polarity to use for the type of metal being welded on. (CT-A)
- Compare and contrast the differences between welding aluminum and magnesium compared to welding steel and stainless steel. How the machine settings differ and what the settings do. (CT-C)

Syllabus Standard Policy Statements

Academic Integrity Policy

Academic freedom is a fundamental right in any institution of higher learning. Honesty and integrity are necessary preconditions of this freedom. Academic integrity requires that all academic work be wholly the product of an identified individual or individuals. Joint efforts are legitimate only when the assistance of others is explicitly acknowledged. Ethical conduct is the obligation of every member of the college community, and breaches of academic integrity constitute serious offenses. Refer to this section of the Student Handbook for further details.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the representation of the words or ideas of another as one's own in any academic exercise. To avoid plagiarism, every direct quotation must be identified by quotation marks or by appropriate indentation and must be properly cited in the text or in a footnote or in a bibliography or works cited page. Acknowledgment is required when material from another source stored in print, electronic or other medium is paraphrased or summarized in whole or in part in one's own words. Refer to Student Handbook for examples of plagiarism.

Temporary Closing Policy

Every effort will be made to keep the college open. However, should inclement weather or other emergencies necessitate closing the college or delaying the start of classes, the decision will be made between 5:00-5:30 a.m. and will be announced on the following:

Nursing 4 hr. class will start at designated late start time (9:40 a.m. or 9:00 a.m.). The college also utilizes text messaging through e2campus™ as another means to notify students, faculty and staff of important announcements. Please refer to the student handbook for information about this service.

Cell Phone Policy

The college believes in providing an environment conducive to learning. For this reason, cellular phone use should be kept to a minimum on campus and conducted in appropriate locations only. Cell phone users should be respectful of others.

1. Students are to turn cell phones off or to silent mode upon entering any classroom, computer lab, library or auditorium.
2. If necessary, students may conduct short, quiet cellular phone conversations in the hallways, away from doorways or outside of the buildings.
3. Cellular phones with picture taking capabilities are not allowed in locker rooms or weight rooms.
4. Faculty members have the right to limit the use of cell phones with picture taking and text messaging capabilities in their classrooms.

5. Students who fail to comply with the above regulations will be referred to the Dean of Student Services and will be considered in violation of the student code of conduct.

Children on Campus Policy

The college strives to maintain a quality learning environment and has established the following guidelines regarding children on campus.

1. Students will not be allowed to bring children with them in the instructional setting which includes, but is not limited to, the classroom, library, student center, etc.
2. When children are present on campus, they must be under the direct supervision of a parent, legal guardian, registered student or other authorized adult.
3. This policy does not intend to conflict with Southwestern's programs designed for the involvement of children. For example: 8th grade career day, youth-camps, business contests, vocational open house, etc.
4. Students who fail to comply with the above regulations will be referred to the Dean of Student Services and will be considered in violation of the student code of conduct.

Southwestern Community College prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age in employment, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, creed, religion, veteran status, associational preference and actual or potential parental, family or marital status in its programs, activities or employment and personnel policies and practices. Southwestern also affirms its commitment to providing equal opportunities and equal access to its facilities. Inquiries regarding compliance with the nondiscrimination policy and the appropriate grievance procedure may be directed to: Educational Equity Coordinator, Southwestern Community College, 1501 W. Accommodations

Southwestern is committed to the regulations of the American with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for students, staff, or patrons of the College in accessing its facilities. Any student with a disability wanting to request accommodations should notify the College administration of his/her needs, and the College will do what is reasonable to effect changes and assist the individual in being successful in the College environment. Steps for obtaining such accommodations are listed in the Student handbook (Disability/Special needs at Southwestern). For further assistance regarding accommodations or to identify special needs, students should contact Deb Pantini, Director of Student Development, Administration Center, at 641.782.1458.

Emergency Notification Policy Statement

SWCC has a campus-wide emergency notification system (e2Campus) to send instant text messages and/or e-mail messages to all students, faculty, and staff who have elected to receive them. This system will be utilized to immediately notify the campus community upon the confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on campus. This service also allows users to receive messages when classes are canceled and/or messages when the college is closed due to weather. With this system in place, SWCC can instantly and simultaneously distribute brief time-sensitive messages in emergency situations. Although there is not one system that is 100 percent guaranteed effective, this is an important method of communication. In order to alert students and employees that an emergency text has been sent, an Emergency Alert sound will be activated. This sound (as well as the tornado and fire alarm sounds) can be heard on the Emergency Notifications page on the SWCC Web site. If the Emergency Alert sound is activated on campus, students and staff should immediately check their text messages. Some carriers may charge for incoming text messages so keep this in mind should you decide to sign up. You may also sign up to receive the same messages via email with or without signing up your cell phone number. To sign up, students will need to log on to SWCC's Campus Connect system. New students will receive training on Campus Connect at Success Seminar, The College Experience course, and orientation.

Class Attendance Related to School-Sponsored Activities

- Students involved in activities (excluding practices) must give written notice to the instructor at least three days in advance of the anticipated absence.
- Students must be given the opportunity to independently make up course work or work of equal value for the day(s) the event was scheduled or to take a scheduled exam at an alternative time.
- Make up work that meets the agreed upon deadline will be graded as regular work.
- School-sponsored absences shall not result in a reduction in attendance or participation grades.
- If the scheduled event is canceled, students are expected to be in class as normal or they will be counted absent.
